

---

CENTER FOR INTEGRITY IN FORENSIC SCIENCES

Where's The Science in Forensic Science? Symposium, Washington University Law School November 15, 2018 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

9:30 Welcome: Prof. Keith A. Findley, University of Wisconsin Law School, founder of CIFS; Prof. Karen Tokarz, Washington University Law School

9:45 Where is the Science in Forensic Science? Panelists include Eleanor Celeste (former NIST scientist and member of the Office of Science & Technology Policy), Alicia Carriquiry, statistician and Distinguished Professor, Iowa State University), and Jo Handelsman (Director, Wisconsin Institute for Discovery; former Associate Director for Science, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy)

11:15 Lunch

12:00 Keynote Address: Radley Balko, criminal justice journalist, Washington Post

1:15 After PCAST, Where Do We Go From Here? Panelists include Tania Simoncelli (Senior Advisor to Director, Broad Institute, MIT & Harvard; former Assistant Director for Forensic Science and Biomedical Innovation, White House Office of Science & Technology Policy), Peter Neufeld (co-founder, Innocence Project; former member, PCAST), and Jo Handelsman (moderator)

2:30 Break

2:45 The True Crime Genre and Opportunities to Improve Forensic Science. Panelists include David Rudolf (North Carolina defense lawyer; The Staircase), Jerome Buting (Wisconsin defense lawyer, Making A Murderer), and Dean Strang (Wisconsin defense lawyer, Making A Murderer)

4:15 Closing Remarks: Jo Handelsman

4:30 Adjourn

Host: Washington University Law School. Sponsor: Jason Flom, Founder & CEO, Lava Records; Founding board member, Innocence Project

Offered by the Center for Integrity in Forensic Sciences (CIFS) and free to students. Admission for those not students is $55, including lunch. Missouri CLE, 6.6 credits. Registration is required. For more information, contact Prof. Karen Tokarz, [314] 935-6414.