"Sparking prosperity for everyone": How asset building can close the racial wealth gap

a conversation

Robert E. Friedman, Founder of CFED (now Prosperity Now) and leader in the field of inclusive asset building, will discuss policies to reduce wealth inequality and strategies for community-driven innovation to build a stronger, more inclusive economy. Community leaders will discuss the implications of Friedman’s recommendations for the St. Louis region.

Sponsored by Center for Social Development
Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity & Equity
Clark-Fox Policy Institute
Collaboration on Race, Inequality, and Social Mobility in America Grand Challenges for Social Work

bit.ly/2ASWwbF