

DEBILITATION IN PALESTINE: NOTES TOWARD SOUTHERN DISABILITY STUDIES

JASBIR K. PUAR, PROFESSOR, RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

This presentation will detail various histories of disability in Palestine and their import in terms of activism, advocacy, and the field of southern disability studies. Based on fieldwork with disability and rehabilitation center workers and members at refugee camps in the West Bank from the summer of 2018, Professor Puar's research suggests that disability is lived as a likely consequence of Palestinian resistance to the Israeli occupation.

 Washington University in St. Louis
ARTS & SCIENCES

Thursday,
April 16th
4 p.m.

Women's Building
Formal Lounge

For more information visit
wgss.wustl.edu/events

Open to the Public

WGSS DeCentering
the West

Co-Sponsors :
Center for the Humanities;
Washington University in St.
Louis: Office of the Vice Provost for Faculty Advancement and institutional Diversity;
International & Area Studies;
Political Science